

Organic Reporting Session at Michigan State University

Friday March 11, 2016

8:30-4:00

Brody Complex on Harrison Rd at west-end of MSU's campus
241 Brody Rd, East Lansing MI 48824

To register go to WEB site:

commerce.cashnet.com/msu_3714

Michigan State University Educators and Michigan Organic Farmers will present:

- Cultural Fruit Orchard Floor Management in Michigan Perennial Crops
Matt Grieshop*, Brad Baughman and Jason Matlock, Department of Entomology
- Strip-tillage and in-row cultivation: What have we learned?
Dan Brainard, MSU Department of Horticulture
- Comparing 6 Compost Systems for their Efficiency and Nutrient Content
John Biernbaum* and Brooke Comer, Department of Horticulture
- Effects of Compost Tea on Soil Biology, Nutrient Content and Aggregate Stability
Gayathri Kotamraju*, Lisa Tiemann, and Annemiek Schilder, Department of Plant, Soil and Microbiology
- MSU Organic Soybean Variety Trials - Four Years of Research
Dean Baas, MSUE Extension
- Organic Markets and Opportunities Discussion Lunch-Time Session
Dan Rossman, MSUE Retired Educator and Organic Farmer
- Testing Systems and Crop Varieties in Organic Production
Organic farmers sharing their result of field tests and systems-All invited to share their on-farm research and observations.

Continuing Educational Credits (CEC credits) are available from ASA in Nutrient Management, Soil & Water Management, Integrated Pest Management, Crop Management, & Professional Development.

Questions? Contact Dan Rossman (rossman@msu.edu)

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

